

A Picture is Worth a Thousand Words

Primary Document Analysis and Creative Writing Assignment

Instructions

- For each photograph, write a story about what you think is happening. Keep the following questions in mind.
  - Who took the picture? Why did they take it?
  - Where is the photo taken? What is the setting?
  - Who is in the picture? What do you see?
  - What happened right before the photo was taken?
  - What is going to happen after the photo was taken?

- Write a story about what you think is happening in this photo. Keep the following questions in mind.
  - Who took the picture? Why did they take it?
  - Where is the photo taken? What is the setting?
  - Who is in the picture? What do you see?
  - What happened right before the photo was taken?
  - What happened after the photo was taken?

- Write a story about what you think is happening in this photo. Keep the following questions in mind.
  - Who took the picture? Why did they take it?
  - Where is the photo taken? What is the setting?
  - Who is in the picture? What do you see?
  - What happened right before the photo was taken?
  - What happened after the photo was taken?

- Write a story about what you think is happening in this photo. Keep the following questions in mind.
  - Who took the picture? Why did they take it?
  - Where is the photo taken? What is the setting?
  - Who is in the picture? What do you see?
  - What happened right before the photo was taken?
  - What happened after the photo was taken?

- Write a story about what you think is happening in this photo. Keep the following questions in mind.
  - Who took the picture? Why did they take it?
  - Where is the photo taken? What is the setting?
  - Who is in the picture? What do you see?
  - What happened right before the photo was taken?
  - What happened after the photo was taken?

